The Cornerstone

The Cornerstone,
It's a symbol of what the MSD students are...
It stands tall and strong
Just like we are...

Elementary students have played tag around it,
Middle school students have [illegible] around it,
High school lovebirds have sat on the steps of the Cornerstone...

The Cornerstone's seen it all...
It's seen elementary students going in on the first day of school with nervous faces,
It's felt the anger and pain of students' frustrations
who take it out on the Cornerstone,
It's seen the high school students cram for exams at 7:55 in the morning on its steps...

The Cornerstone has experienced silent tears,
As it sees high school seniors leave on Graduation Day
For new destinations, college, new jobs,
Leaving MSD behind

But the Cornerstone also has silent pride...
As former students become successful professionals,
And come back to MSD to teach...

Although we don't think of the Cornerstone much,
We pass it everyday, without a blink of the eye...
It's a symbol of who and what we are,
Tall and strong, we stand...It's who and what we are...

- Stacy A. Nowak

The Work Inside

Our hallowed halls have seen many generations of deaf children enter, grow up, and leave to begin their adult lives. MSD has prepared them well. The first rays of rising sun reach out and spread across A. Fuller Crane Memorial Mall. The wind rustles through delicately shaded leaves. All over Frederick campus life begins to stir; students wake up to begin a new day. Empty rooms will soon be filled with the bustling, cheerful activities of students learning, eating, and playing. The vacant benches scattered across the campus will soon be occupied by students from all walks of life joined by their common bond...deafness. Within the gates of our campus lie four dormitories: Barry Hall, Foxwell-Moylan Hall, Klipp-Redmond Hall and Faupel Hall. In the center of campus lies Ely Building. Built in 1971 to replace Old Main Building, Ely is the center for High School and Middle School academic education. Directly across from Ely is Bjorlee Library, the library and learning resources center for the entire school. To the right of the library is the Ambrosen Building, which houses the Superintendent's office and all of his administrative staff. Across from the Ambrosen Building is the remaining Hessian Barrack. It serves as a museum depicting the uses of the building since it was constructed in 1777. Behind "The Barracks" stand the cafeteria and Kent-McCanner Building the educational center for our elementary children. Across the street lie the George William Veditz Building, the career technology center, and the Harry G. Benson Gymnasium.

The afternoon sun glints off the windows of the Main Building on the fifty-five acre Columbia Campus. The Main Building houses the administration, the Middle School, the Physical Education Department, Family Education, and the Library. Inside Baker Building, the Maintenance Department and the dormitories can be found. Stiener Building A houses students, a computer center and a media center. Inside Stiener Building B, the Infirmary, the Cafeteria, and classrooms for the four-year old students can be found.

A Day Off

The Great Frederick Fair was a Kaleidoscope of tastes, sights, and delicious aromas wafting under our noses and tempting us to gluttony. The day was a blur of swirling colors and flashing lights. The beat of the music vibrating in our bodies boosted our excitement to new heights. The thrills of the rides sent boundless energy and excitement surging through each one of us. Exploring the cluster of buildings at the fair entrance, we came upon all the artistic and agricultural talent of Frederick Countians gathered together. One could walk among exhibits of skilled cooking, elaborate crafts, and top-class livestock. All were vying for high honor and recognition. Many MSD students were seen admiring the products of those unique talents. Wandering away from the arts and crafts, we spotted the livestock barns. In the barns we saw many breeds of prize-winning animals. We saw horses, cows, sheep, pigs, goats, and chickens, just to name a few. The fair was enjoyed by all and it was great day.

Dream Ahead

Life here is extremely varied with many different cultures, backgrounds, and perspectives among the students. We laugh, we cry, we dream our dreams, and most of all, we grow together. We are filled with ambition; we strive to succeed in school, in sports, in various organizations, and in life in general. Our days at MSD are numbered, and the future looms nearer and nearer each day. All of us face taking our first steps into an unknown future, but whatever happens, we'll always remember that not even the sky's the limit...

A Day to Remember

Homecoming... a week to remember. On Monday the students began their week garbed in patriotic red, white, and blue. We continued bringing our spirits higher and higher as the week wore on. It was like a fuse being lit inside us. By Friday night, we were ready to explode. The pulse of our throbbing spirits, the tension and nervousness continued to build. The disappointment of losing the volleyball game didn't bring us down, but only fueled our determination to do our best the next day. The Pep Rally after the volleyball game was a complete success. The Homecoming Queen's and King's names were announced — Elizabeth Juchno and Joey Greegor had captured the crowns. After a good night's rest, our fuse reached its end and the bomb exploded. Our football players tore up the field with incredible determination. We won, 48-8! Yes, our twenty-fifth Homecoming was a time to remember.

A World Apart

Classrooms... like little worlds apart where all students start their formal education. Here children explore and get to know the world that surrounds them. The combination of skilled teachers, eager students, and a harmonious classroom environment provides mind-blowing results. Students emerge from their classrooms itching to learn more and to change the world. The magic of learning goes undefeated here in the classrooms of MSD. In our classrooms we study everything we can, from armistices in Social Studies, to zoology in General Science. Everything known to man is open for study in our classrooms. Classrooms are where we learn about ourselves and our world.

END OF THE LINE

The 1994 graduating seniors of the Maryland School of the Deaf... A picture that represents what they have gone through for 4 years. They proudly spell out '94. 1994... the year they graduate and leave MSD behind.

Yoon Lee

The seniors gather for a picture during one of their last high school moments. Under these smiling faces lie the feelings of happiness, sadness, frustration, and cherished memories of MSD to last them a lifetime..

They watch with fascination as elementary student, Jessica Baldi teaches them the basics, "... pay attention; you'll learn something", one of the first... and last lessons of MSD.

Some of them may be laughing, but it's only a cover for tears welling up inside as they bid farewell to MSD, their second home for so long...

Hail to Their Highnesses

Yoon Lee

The Seniors... entered MSD as babies and left as young adults. They grew and matured. They fought and kissed. MSD was considered their second home. They grew up in the dorm rooms. In the gym they dunked, spiked and threw enroute to breaking some of MSD's sports records. In school, they crammed, cried and wrote. Outside, they wrestled, laughed and fooled around. The years went by without their realizing it. As days became years, they made marks on MSD that would last a lifetime. They became lowly Freshmen in the fall of '91, with the Seniors teasing them and calling them, "Rats". Suddenly, it was their Sophomore year. They became part of the High School crowd. When their Junior year arrived, they became cool. Then this year, their Senior year arrived. They began worrying about college and leaving MSD. They became leaders and role models. They started really looking at the things around them and appreciating the teachers and staff. The outer world was yet to come, but they knew, in a way, that their hearts would be broken when they left for the last time. Some spent their entire lives at MSD, some transferred to MSD. In High School they joined together; they became a family. When they leave for the outside world, they can proudly say that they came from MSD, that they graduated with the Class of '94...

The seniors...The product of MSD's recipe...

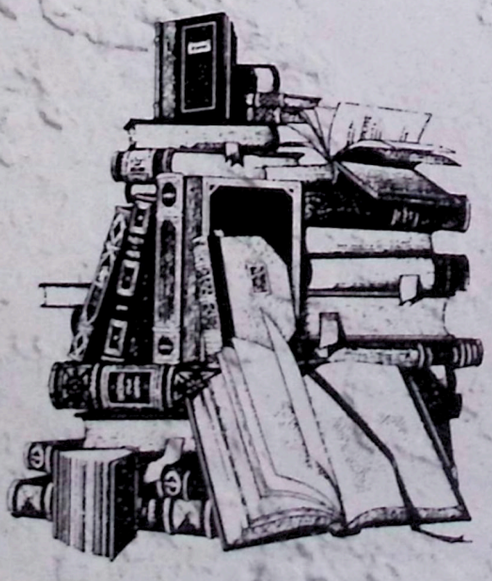
The Limit... Not Even the Sky

Academic

The most important ingredient in the student's education is the teachers... They spend countless hour making sure we reach the highest level of knowledge we can possibly attain. Their dedication, love, knowledge, and time make MSD an exceptional school. Without them, we'd be lost. They take us hand in hand and journey with us as we go along exploring the world and all of its resources. They teach us everything we know with extreme patience. With time we absorb it all, and they fill with pride as we go off to college or to jobs. There are times when they'd dearly love to strangle us, but at other times their eyes fill up as we do better and better every year. They keep on helping us learn more...



They're the first ingredient in the receipe of MSD, the teachers...

Congratulations, Seniors!

Time has come for each one of you, members of the Class of 1994, to move forward to greater challenges. As you grow into productive members of the world society, you will carry knowledge and skills learned at MSD throughout your lifetimes.

Much lies ahead of us as much has happened behind us. In the year 2000 and beyond, your parents, MSD administrators, faculty, residential educators, and support staff will look to you and your peers for leadership, intellect, and courage as our country enters the 21st century. The United States is at its crossroads. Technology is exploding in telecommunications, genetics, manufacturing, medicine, and computers; and, at the same time, crime, poverty, illiteracy, and illegitimacy are increasingly rampant. It is our hope that if we do not have the answers, you will.

Looking at the history of Deaf people, the 1990's is our Golden Decade. Barriers in telecommunications, television and videos, and information access are coming down. Deafness is no longer an excuse for self-defeatism. It is your ability to reason, your fluency in languages, your ability to get along with people, and your mastery of technology that will carry you far in life.

On behalf of the MSD Community, each one of us are proud to have served each of you, and we all wish all of you good luck in your years ahead. As always, you are very welcome to visit us in the future.

Best wishes,

James E. Tucker

Dedication

The 1994 Cornerstone is dedicated to Ms. Virginia Clare Borggaard. She has guided the students in the right direction for 23 years. A student at various Schools for the Deaf while growing up, she graduated from Gallaudet University as a member of the Class of 1966. Although her first goal was to be a nurse, she decided to become a teacher. After a year at the Alabama School for the Deaf, she moved to Maryland to work at MSD. She is presently a Middle School Language Arts teacher but has taught practically everything to students at all levels. Ms. Borggaard's accomplishments are many! They include being the co-founder/sponsor of the Pee-Wee NAD (1971); one of the founders of the Frederick Tele-Com Association (1977), now known as F.C.S.H.I., where she served as president of the F.C.S.H.I. Board of Directors (1984); served as the first chairperson for the Camp Mark Seven Board of Directors; and a member of the Frederick Division Chapter #163 National Fraternity Society for the Deaf. She has been on the Board of Directors and in various other offices in the N.F.S.D.

Ms. Borggaard, known to all as "Jini" has always tried to make life better for other people. She loves watching her students succeed as they accomplish their goals. Ms. Borggaard demonstrates her strong belief in community involvement and service as she spends much time helping other people and being involved in organizations.

Some of her passions are cats, traveling, gardening and reading mysteries. Jini's favorite motto, "There is no such word as 'can't'.", and has proven to us that she follows that motto by heart. Thank you, Ms. Borggaard for all your love, your patience and your teaching!

Sports

Students live to win in sports. MSD's athletic program gives us the chance to show our true character. MSD is known all over America for its sportsmanship and determination. When we go against tough teams, we give our best. When we face difficult hurdles, we work to overcome them. When we lose, we accept it with the knowledge that we tried. When we win, we are filled with PRIDE. We give it all until the buzzer sounds. This has earned the respect of the teams we play. When the students take part in sports, they and their teammates are immediately filled with spirit, pride, and power. People who were not even friends unite on the court as teammates. The positive attitude carries over to the academic program. All the discipline is worth it when we win. Sports, a big part in the recipe of MSD...

For the first time ever we had a co-ed basketball team for third and fourth grade boys and girls. The Bantam team of six boys and three girls had the wonderful opportunity to learn to play basketball. They dribbled, rebounded, passed, and naturally, made some points, as they learned the rules. They showed pride, effort, patience, and some excellent teamwork. Thanks goes to their fans... especially the parents for supporting them. Good luck to the players who will move up next year. We look forward to a better season next year.

The Oriole Football Team had a very exciting year. The team finished the regular season with a record of 5 wins and 3 loses. The boys had worked hard together to make their team "The Best."

The Orioles' had a strong offensive team. John Moore (offensive end), Joey Greegor (Quarterback), and Steve Brzozowski (kicker) broke school records. John Moore had a fine year. He added much to the Orioles' potent offense team as he collected two school records: a total of 665 pass receiving yards this season and a career record of 41 catches for 735 yards.

MSD's success this past season was also supported by its strong defensive team led by two seniors: Nose Guard Clarence Taylor and Linebacker Steve Brzozowski. They averaged 9.5 tackles per game for a total of 76 for the season. Also Sean O'Brien, Senior Linebacker, helped as he averaged 13.2 tackles per game for five games.

Leading the Orioles in the passing department was Senior Quarterback, Joey Greegor. Joey passed for 845 yards for the season and was able to capture two school records.

The Orange Gang scored 244 points compared to 120 points for their opponents. Many thanks to Chris vonGarrel, Eric Woods, Conrad vonGarrel, Jeff White, and Darrel Millsaps for their time and help as Assistant Coaches. They spent the season helping to rebuild the team.

"Team 8"

After winning the ESDAA Volleyball Championship last year, the MSD Varsity Girls Volleyball team started it's 4th year with a group of young hardworking and everlasting tenacious players called the "TEAM 8". (7 Sophomores and 1 Freshman).

Lots of "pows", "bumps", "sets", "kills", "scores", and "excitement!" were poured into the regular season games as well as those played at the Maria Goretti Invitational Tournament, the MSSD Invitational Tournament, the Frederick County Tournament, and the ESDAA Tournament. The highlights of the season were the two most distant games — the Indiana School for the Deaf and the Florida School for the Deaf. Both trips were learning experiences.

MSD hosted its first ESDAA Volleyball Tournament on its home court. Because of their refusal to "give up" and their constant "teamwork", the girls placed 3rd. Of the 10 All-Stars chosen, three were our players: Christina Liddle, Stacy Nowak, and Amy Wise. The team appreciated the support of many loyal fans.

We are proud to be a part of the team, especially during the ESDAA Tournament. We look forward to sending our players to camp this Summer, and starting our 5th Volleyball season!

The Lucky 7 leads the way!

The M.S.D. Girls Basketball Team concluded its season with a 16-5 record which is believed to be the most victorious in the school's history. We got together on the first day and made a wish list. The wishes included winning the Model Classic, winning the E.S.D.A.A. championship and being the National Prep Team of the Year. Two of our wishes came true. We won the Model Classic with victories over the Rhode Island School for the Deaf and Model Secondary School for the Deaf. The victory over M.S.S.D. was one of our best memories of the year. We won the E.S.D.A.A. championship with victories over Lexington School for the Deaf and American School For the Deaf. The championship game brought a dramatic show. We won the game with a buzzer shot! It was a thrilling end to a wonderful season. Without the support from the students, faculty, parents, alumnus, and friends, we would not be able to accomplish those feats! Thanks for the support! My appreciation goes out to my assistant coaches Tom Luttrell and Jesse Bailey for their help. As Jesse Jackson once said, "If your mind can perceive it and your heart can believe it, then you know you can acheive because you are somebody!" Slammin' our way to the top!

This year we had our best season ever, attaining a record of 19-2, compared to last year's record of 18-2. Inclement weather cancelled 5 of our scheduled games. We won the MSSD Classic, beating Rhode Island School for the Deaf (61-42) and American School for the Deaf (71-41). We then won third place in the ESDAA tournament. After beating Western Pennsylvania School for the Deaf (63-35) to go into the semi-finals, in we suffered a devastating one point (55-54) loss to Marie Katzenbach School for the Deaf to win third place. We beat Lexington School for the Deaf (63-35).

Clarence Taylor was the MVP at the MSSD Classic and was selected to the All-Tournament team in the ESDAA tournament for the third year in a row. John Moore was selected as a member of the All-Tournament team for both the MSSD Classic and the ESDAA tournament. Seniors who will leave us this year are Clarence Taylor III, Sean O'Brien, Steve Brzozowski, Van Greene and Herbert Bowden.

We Are Back!!

The MSD Wrestling Squad showed a lot of improvement this year. It was a team everyone was proud of. Our undefeated team's record of 11-0-1 surpassed last year's 11-5 record. The team this year expanded to 32 wrestlers. The secret of our success was grapplers who showed "a heart for wrestling" whether or not they won or lost the bout.

After losing the ESDAA Tournament Championship to Lexington last year, the squad promised to return and win. This year, the grapplers proved themselves, kept their word, and won the tournament. The last time MSD won the championship was 1991.

Another season highlight was the second place finish at the St. Michael's Wrestling Tournament.

This has been one of our best years. We will miss Joey Greegor and Jacob Spidle next year. They led our team through a winning season. We look forward to next year.

Events

Maryland School does not stop at academics and sports. There are many more activities. There are ski trips, plays and camping to name but a few. The staff strives to enrich our experiences, memories and knowledge. The list is endless, but there is only space to mention a few. A ski trip in the winter to the Vermont School for the Deaf, allows students to make new friends and to have fun skiing. High school students become highly competitive for a part in the annual Spring play directed by Bette Hicks and Mark Rust. Middle school students look forward to their turn at Camp Roundmeadow and Greentop. Several high school students chosen to go to Close Up in Washington D.C. see how our government works. MSD gives us many opportunities for which we are grateful. Events, one of the last ingredients in MSD's recipe...

Energy Saver

In June of 1992, MSD began working on a lighting retrofit project with the Maryland Energy Administration and the Potomac Edison Company. The actual work on the project began June 1, 1993 and was completed October 18, 1993.

The goal of the lighting project was to install or change all the lighting fixtures at MSD. In many cases these lighting fixtures were changed to provide for a better quality of lighting using much less energy. Potomac Edison agreed to pay more than $250,000 for this project at no cost to MSD. The total savings to MSD is expected to be over $42,000 a year in energy costs.

The students and staff were included in the energy saving awareness project. MSD held an essay contest for the Middle School and High School students and a poster contest for the Elementary students. During the Kick-Off Event on October 18th, the winners of the essay and poster contests were announced and given a $50 savings bond from the governor. Those winners were: Lacey A. Wilhelm, Elementary School; Allison E. Tyler, Middle School; and Stacy A. Nowak, High School.

During the Kick-Off Event, Governor William Donald Schaefer was present and gave his support to the School, its project, and its overall mission to the community. At the Kick-Off Event there were tours of the school for many of the senators and delegates who were present and a wonderful buffet for all who attended.

MSD is continually looking for creative ways to manage its resources; this is but one example. MSD is currently working towards a similar project at Columbia Campus.

Disney's Holiday Celebration

This year the Elementary School Christmas program was designed to celebrate Walt Disney's 50th anniversary. The play involved many skits performed by different grades, such as "Snow White and the Seven Dwarfs", "8 Dalmations Find a Home", "The Rescuers Save Santa", "Disney's Toyland", and "The Scrooge Who Stole Our Christmas". On the big day, the audience was full of proud parents armed with video cameras, cameras, and lots of film. During the play, numerous flashbulbs went off at various times, but the kids handled it like pros. All the hard work done by the Elementary School teachers and students made the play a smashing success.

Brian Laird

The Middle School Department performed an original play written and directed by Shari Kido for their Christmas program this year. It was about six orphaned deaf children who live with a mean old lady who hates holidays. She tries everything she can to make the children miserable, to get them adopted, and taken away. It was near Christmas, and two elves had been sent on a mission by Santa Claus to visit the house and make the old lady appreciate holidays because the orphans were always full of Christmas Spirit. Well, the elves weren't too thrilled with the old lady, so they played a few tricks on her, and she blamed the children and punished them. On Christmas Eve, Santa Claus came and the old lady realized the true meaning of Christmas, became nice, stopped trying to make the children unhappy, and everybody lived happily ever after. It was an amusing program, and throughout the play you could look around and see members of the audience laughing. The audience applauded heartily at the conclusion of the play, and the cast retired backstage with the satisfaction of a job well done.

The first play, "Give and Take", a cluster of skits from around the world, shared a common theme of greed and generosity. Each skit was presented in a way to provoke the audience's thoughts to a realization of human behavior. "Give and Take" subtly put the audience into a thinking mood for the next play, "The First Time Club".

"The First Time Club" is the story of four best friends who form a club when the girls are ten years old. The Club's purpose is to do something new and different at their monthly meetings. The play follows them as they grow from pre-adolsecence to teenagers. The story is one of tragedy and triumph. When the shiest and least daring of the friends discovers she has AIDS, the other three fear they may have it also. Gradually, they pull together again for comfort and support as they deal with their fears.

The performance provoked much emotion, and gave the audience insight into difficult issues faced by today's teenagers.

Organizations

At 3:10 the hallways of Ely Building are filled with students rushing to their lockers, then off to the dorm or to meetings of various organizations. There are numerous organizations here at MSD. Enthusiastic students from all departments are involved in their favorites after school. The after school clubs are great boosters for the students' morale and self-esteem. The students see their work published, they see MSD changing and they feel their knowledge growing. Organizations allow the students to release their creativity, ideas and feelings. Students benefit tremendously from belonging. On the following pages you will see organizations MSD offers to its students. Organizations, only another part of MSD's recipe...

Student Body Government

The Student Body Government (SBG) has been through many changes in the past year. We changed our name from Student Council to SBG last spring and rebuilt our organization into one that is easier to use. SBG organized last fall's Homecoming, and has held parties throughout the year. Every two weeks, on Monday, the SBG officers meet with the members of the SBG Senate. Each class has a represenative that attends the meetings. Part of the class represenative's responsibility is to bring any complaints or concerns that their class members have to the attention of the SBG officers. Then after every Senate meeting the representative is to update their classmates on the SBG's actions. This system gives the SBG opportunites to take action on students concerns and lets everyone have their say in the way things are run.

Junior Student Body Government

This year the Junior Student Body Government (JSBG) has done things that promote social events and academic programs. For the social part, we have arranged parties for such events as Halloween, Christmas, and Valentine's Day. We try to make the parties fun, serve good refreshments, and play good music. This requires extra time on the part of the JSBG officers who reserve the Orioles Nest, decorate, plan games, and get refreshments ready. Thanks to the JSBG officers for their great work this year. On the academic part, we have encouraged students to improve their grades by motivating them to join something such as the honor program by offering them special privileges. Thanks to the R.E's for making this possible. This year has been a good year, and we hope next year the JSBG will improve even more and that our relationship with the SBG and the school administration will improve. Also, we hope our budget will be bigger than this year's. Thank you for your help and support!

They are responsible for hearing students' complaints made against other students. They determine whether or not a violation has happened and decide on disciplinary action if necessary. They do not handle cases relating to academics.

The Judicial Board was established in 1993 and this has been our first year of trial and error! In June of 1993, we went to North Carolina for our first training retreat. There we received some help from M.S.S.D.

We consider the school year handing down decisions on various cases had been successful. We have had a wonderful year learning the new skills involved in running Judicial hearings! Last of all, we are still "cutting our teeth" and look forward to our second year and another retreat!

Peer Advisors

Peer Advisors serve the school in many ways. One of their most useful functions is the twenty-four hour job of serving as role models. They are responsible for providing positive examples of good citizenship for other students. P.A.'s are assigned different rooms on different floors so they can look after new students and serve as group leaders in their living quarters. P.A.'s receive regular supervision and support from the Peer Advisor Program Coordinator, and their on-site supervisors (CREs/REs). Weekly supervisory meetings help keep the P.A.'s on track; their responsibilities make it imperative that they receive regular professional consultation.

P.A.'s are expected to live up to their reputations as positive role models and leaders. Peer Advisors are here to help students and to serve the school community.

Pee Wee NAD

This year has been a terrific one for Pee Wee NAD! We have about thirty members and their dedication made our fundraising ventures successful. We sold MSD bookcovers throughout the entire year, Snapple drinks at Homecoming, and various Easter items during the spring. The purpose of our fundraising is to earn money for our annual field trip. We hold meetings once a month, and after every meeting is finished we serve refreshments and play games. We have really enjoyed this year and hope that next year will be even better!

The Pilots of the Young Astronauts Chapter 13820 have just finished their seventh chartered year at the Maryland School for the Deaf. "The Space Orioles" have learned about the space shuttle program, the space station, and have conducted various experiments "in space." Any student who is on the Citizenship Honor Roll may join the Young Astronauts. This year Hei-Jin Woodyard was selected as a participant at Space Camp in Huntsville, Alabama.

Young Astronauts Commanders

The Commanders of the Young Astronauts Chapter 27633 are high school students who show interest in various space programs and the universe. The Commanders hold bi-monthly meetings to keep up with current information. Each year, members are chosen to further their interest and knowledge at the Space Academy in Huntsville, Alabama. This year, Hayley Evans and Mike Halischak will attend Space Acadmey Level I, while Donna Crowe will attend Level II.

Boy Scouts

Boy Scouts of America is a strong outdoors and leadership program. Boy Scouts of America helps boys from the age of 10 and older. Our Scout motto says, "Be prepared!"

Our troop is one of the oldest troops in the Frederick district.

This summer some of the scouts will go on a backpacking trip in the Sangro de Christo mountains near Philmont, New Mexico. So far we have had many excellent and neat camping trips like our white water rafting trip. This year has been fun for us except for the snow storms which cancelled some of our camping trips.

Cub Scouts

This is the 3rd year of the Cub Scout program. We are learning how to make crafts, snacks, and play games together. Some of our outdoor activities include off-campus trips to parks where we learn how to identify different kinds of trees, flowers, and other things. These are good learning experiences for the Cub Scouts.

Girl Scouting offers girls the opportunity to interact with their peers on an equal social level and allows them to have a lot of fun in the process.

Here at MSD we fund most of our projects with the money we earn from selling Girl Scout cookies. We try to get the most we can from the money the girls earn. We use some of the money to purchase materials for various crafts.

Brownies

In January of 1994, a Brownie Girl Scout Troop was established at MSD. Its purpose is to give young girls the opportunity to experiment, create, challenge, and grow in a nurturing and supportive environment. The goals for a Brownie are:

1) to develop her full individual potential,
2) to relate to others with increased understanding, skill, and respect,
3) to develop values to guide her actions and to provide the foundation for decision-making, and
4) to contribute to the improvement of society through the use of her abilities and leadership skills, and to work in cooperation with others.

High School Cooking Club

This year has been a different experience for all of us. We started the year by preparing and delivering a huge variety of goodies for the Oriole's Nest Grand Opening. Then we worked on our next big event, the Second Annual Holiday Open House. We served a variety of homemade holiday goodies to our visitors. It was a big success! We are already looking forward to our Third Open House. We resumed preparing and selling goodies from both old and new recipes after a major kitchen cleanout. We are also planning a new Spring event maybe to be called "The First Annual Spring Games and Tons of Fun!"

Elementary Cooking Club

This year, as in preceding years, Elementary students were given the opportunity to join the Cooking Club. The purpose of the Cooking Club is to teach the girls how to read and follow receipes for food preparation, to show them how to find their way around in a kitchen, and to teach them to clean up after they finish cooking. This helps them develop teamwork, and they have a lot of fun in the process. So far, they have learned to make chocolate chip cookies and sugar cookies. This Spring they plan to cook dinner for themselves, and make snacks for their slumber party.

MSD's Ski Club has the distinction of being one of the most thrilling and exciting clubs on campus. The members are drawn together by their fever for the slopes of this exhilarating winter sport. Member's abilities range from novice to "Black Double-Diamond Mogul Masters."

Ski Club members host candy sales throughout the year and even offers "Sno-Cones" to beat the August heat early in the school year. All the money generated provides funds for ski trips to a variety of areas. Whether they be at Mt. Snow, Vermont ... Snowshoe, West Virginia ... Seven Springs, Pennsylvania ... or WISP, Maryland, the slopes are no match for the members of MSD's Ski Club.

Teenage Club

The Teenage Club is fun for kids who are 13 years or older. The kids in the Teenage Club had a lot of social activities. They went to places to have fun instead of staying in the residence hall. They got to know each other better. In May, they went to Six Flags in New Jersey. The Teenage Club helped its members build social skills and better citizenship.

Save the Earth

The concept of a Recycling Club has been a very important issue among the Elementary Residence Hall students. They understand the importance of the reprocessing waste products for reuse. They collected their cans mostly from the dorm's snack bar. Other cans are brought in from their homes and by the school staff. The proceeds from the sale of cans go toward the dorm funds.

The Hiking Club

The primary purpose of the Hiking Club is to give our students opportunities to learn about, to enjoy and to appreciate the "great outdoors". From the experience of hiking other benefits have accrued such as increased self-confidence as well as exercising in the fresh air.

The Hiking Club has visited locations such as Liberty Dam, Rock Creek Park, Oregon Ridge Park, and Patapsco State Park on Route 40. Interestingly, although Patapsco State Park on Rt. 40 is within a very few miles of the Baltimore City Limits, hikers saw several deer and one approached to about fifteen feet from the group!

The Club is sponsored by R.E.s John Henderson and Matthew Welch.

Students

Some of us looked forward to this day, others viewed it as one of the worst days of their lives. Most of us got dressed up and made extra efforts to look really good; some of us dressed like we would during any regular school day. Tiny mirrors were propped up right behind the camera where all of us could straighten our hair and make-up. After all the fussing, we had to wait in line to sit on a stool. We were poked, prodded, and told to sit up straight and smile at the camera. Some people wouldn't even smile, and had disagreements with the photographer. Often we smiled our best when the photographer was fiddling with his camera. At the instant the camera flashed, most of us gave less than our best. It was a day that comes only once a year! (Thank heavens!) It was the school picture day. Here are the results... A small piece of MSD's recipe...

Almost at the top...

This year the Class of 1995 was in charge of the prom. We made a lot of progress in planning the prom. Our only goal this year was to have a really great prom, one that would be remembered for a long time to come. The prom committee members were Donna Crowe, Nicole Walker, Stephen Semler, Dennis Dean, Shane Hoover, Ryan Palmer, and Mike Bowen. The committee worked hard planning the prom of '94. We hope that all of the students who attended the prom this year had a great time there. Best wishes for a great year from the Class of '95.

This year gave us a lot of opportunities to earn more money. We earned a lot of profit selling jugs during the Homecoming weekend. We wanted to thank our fellow students for their patience with us. We also made some progress towards our fund for the prom next year. We have a long way to go to reach our goal to make our senior trip successful by the time we are seniors. We want to thank our new sponsors, Gerri Whitt and Charles Day for their help. Also, thank you to our officers who sacrificed their time to help the class of '96 improve. Hey, remember the three most important words, "Never give up"!

Rat rookies...

The Class of '97 entered high school with twenty-four young but energetic students ready to leave their mark. September brought the election of Stacy Nowak and Jeff Oswald as President and Vice-President. Joshua Moore and Kyle Clark became the secretary and treasurer. During Homecoming, we sold out of hot dogs in only thirty minutes. We showed that we were a real team by cooperating to clean up the football field and the Oriole's Nest after the game and party. We sold hand chains and blow pops during the year, and did very well. It was a great year. The class of '97 RULES!

Family Education Department

The Family Education Department was established in 1968 because MSD recognized that deaf and hard of hearing babies needed to have communication as early in life as possible. More than five hundred families have been served by the department during the past twenty-five years. During the 1993-94 school year, more than one hundred families have benefitted from home visits, toddler play groups, classes for two-year-olds at both campuses and parent meetings throughout the state.

The early identification of children with hearing loss has increased dramatically because FE has established a network with many agencies throughout the state including the Maryland Infants and Toddlers Program and the Department of Health and Mental Hygiene. This network allows families to identify what resources are available. Thus, the families and their children can develop a visual communication system as soon as possible. By including each family member, the relationships in the family are strengthened, and the challenge of raising a deaf or hard-of-hearing child is shared.

The department also coordinates American Sign Language classes on both campuses at no cost to all family members. The staff of twenty-two family educators travels the state from Oakland to Ocean City to provide instruction and information about deaf culture, the deaf community, language acquisition, and child development.

Class of 94

The Class of 1994... They are an unusual group of students. Just by being themselves, they have managed to put their mark on MSD that time will not be able to erase. There are many athletes among them - there are a few geniuses in their midst. They are a special group of teenagers...they are the seniors. They come from all over Maryland - some are from the Eastern Shore, some are from Western Maryland. Wherever they come from, they share a common goal which is to move on to a higher level of knowledge. Each is a very unique individual, yet they fit into the group well. Some of these students have been our role models, our friends, our sweethearts. Whatever they were to each of us, they will be missed by all. The real world is yet to come. By instict, they seem to know that their hearts will be broken when they leave for the last time.

Class of '94

In Closing . . .

It's over . . . the long hard journey of creating the '94 CORNERSTONE came to a close. The words, "It's over...", seemed like a fountain spurting forth the joy, relief, anticipation, awe and a little regret we felt as we finished the 1994 CORNERSTONE at long, long last! For some, it was the last CORNERSTONE they would work on; for others, it was their first. All of us had shared one goal: To do the very best we could to make this CORNERSTONE our most memorable one.

We started our work very late. October brought the first round of meetings. Many students wanted to join, and at first, the staff numbered twenty-two. The numbers dwindled to a core team of eleven students, two advisors and several others who gave their much-appreciated assistance. Although we ended with only eleven students, those eleven were dedicated. All of them were involved in sports and other activities so they stayed after hours many times and struggled to bed in the wee hours of the morning only to get up early to go to class. It was hard; yes, but they didn't really mind because it was for our beloved CORNERSTONE.

We became one. We all were from different crowds, but the CORNERSTONE brought us together. As the months passed, we shared responsibilities, duties and jobs. We wrote, we worked, we argued, we laughed, we wrestled and we screamed. Sometimes we snuck out to get a few more hours of sleep leaving Yoon and Sherina frustrated and pulling their hair. Domino's and Diamond's Pizza probably thank us for making their businesses richer!

Through all the ups and downs, we survived the mere 6 months, it took the CORNERSTONE to capture our hearts.

I would not be fair for us to say we did it all. We didn't. Many thanks go to Stanley Baker and Rita Sharpe for their many hours of proofreading and Merle Foley for his pictures, advice and help.

Finally, this CORNERSTONE would not have been read by you all, if not for Yoon and Sherina Lee, our advisors. They put their hearts, minds and souls into this yearbook. They slept over often, they wrote, they photographed, typed and did layouts. They ate, slept and thought CORNERSTONE. Thank you, Yoon and Sherina. We love you guys a lot!

It's over. The CORNERSTONE is completed. All we have now are our memories and this beloved book. This was a product of our LOVE for M.S.D. . . . And remember, there's no limit, not even the sky.

Editor-in-Chief
Michael Halischak

It's clear that the three are tired, but they smile after many hours of work.
